Event Details

The session began with a warm welcome address delivered by Dr. C. Jaya Pradha/ HoD, CSE, followed by the delivery of Presidential Address by Dr. ThirunadaSikamani. The program was meticulously organized by Dr. Thirunada Sikamani, Associate Dean for Capacity Building. The event was organized by Dr. Thirunada Sikamani, Associate Dean for Capacity Building, with the support of faculty members from the Department of CSE. Resource coordinators are Dr. V.S. Thiagarajan and Dr. J. Jayapriya from the Department of Computer Science and Engineering (CSE).. The event was designed to introduce Office Assistantsto the core concepts of Information Technology (IT) and its practical applications in both professional and daily life. The workshop aimed to develop foundational knowledge in basic computer operations, file management, and essential software tools.

The training covered a wide range of IT skills, including:

- Introduction to IT Concepts: Dr. Thiagarajan provided an overview of the components of a computer system—hardware, software, and networking.
- Computer Operations & File Management: Dr. JayaPriya guided participants on managing files and folders efficiently, ensuring proper file storage and organization.
- Software Tools: Ms. Bhuvaneswari introduced essential software tools like Microsoft Word, Excel, and PowerPoint, focusing on their application in everyday office tasks.
- Networking & Online Communication: Ms. Abinaya and Ms. Chitra explained basic networking concepts and how to use online communication tools such as email and video conferencing.

The hands-on sessions allowed participants to apply their learning immediately, gaining practical experience in file management, software usage, and troubleshooting basic IT issues. the Fundamentals of IT Skills program successfully met its objectives, empowering non-teaching staff with essential IT knowledge and skills. This initiative contributed to the ongoing capacity-building efforts at the institution and will help enhance productivity and efficiency in the workplace.
